

A selection of poems written by pupils at Stanbridge Primary School to help us remember

Remember Me

I am young I saw the light
I faced my fears at night
The ground is where I lay
I am forgiven today
I have been loved and that will stay
The Poppy's replay the story today.

Written by Lylah

Wear your Poppies with Pride

On Flanders Fields all muddy and bare

Only real poppies grow there.

Hundreds of young men died

Mothers at home cried.

Wear your poppies with pride

To remind us how many died.

Our country is now free

The soldiers died for you and me.

Written by Arthur

Please remember the poppies in your hearts

Poppies are to remember those who fought for us

Over the hills of Flanders fields

Please remember Poppies in your heart

Poppies help us to remember the one who protect us

Yes, remember the times this has happened and how they helped

Written by Jessica

Flanders Field- Re-written

Always remember the 11th November
Where poppies all swayed and grew
Flanders field id the place where they fought for us to live
And we remember all those who gave up their lives for us
So we wear poppies to remember
All those who died in November
The saw the dawn and reached the sunset
And there they lay watching us
We look up at them asking for hope
And this all happened in Flanders fields.

Written by Evie

In gladders fields
Poppies were reweiled
Row on Row
They grow and grow

On this special day
we stand and pray

Poppies bloom each year
It's a time for us to cheer
Blood red flowers grew from the mud
Where they did once trudge one minutes silence for what they did during the war

Every person rich to poor

So we wear a poppy with pride
To remember those who died and survived
Both wars ended in victory
Without the brave soldiers there may be no you or me

Written by Macey

LEST WE

Forget Why I Remember.

In a field of poppies
 dying soldiers lay,
 That's why we celebrate remembrance day.

They were fallen heroes.

Men of gear.

The gun shots they heard were always to near.

I wear a poppy to show I care,

To help their families
 through heartache and despair.

A poppy is a badge
 of pride,

To remember each and every soldier that died.

by Abigail 6A.

Strong Hearts in Battle

Poppies grow and blow
On land that had been destroyed
People tried to avoid the danger from the bullets and booms.
We remember those who gave their lives
For our freedom and life
Trudging through the mud nothing grew
For years and years.
The war ended and vibrant colours of red flowers
Mark the space for a soldier in battle.
With strong hearts defended Britain and restored peace to our country.

Written by Holly and Harrison

World War

We wear Poppies
To remember those who died
We care for the people,
To remember those who fought in the war.
They fought for us
to save our lives,
Never leave us
We'll always need.
At 11'oclock we stand and stay,
And wear blood red poppies as we remember
A sign of respect for those who fought,
That's why poppies are so important.
Remember your county needs you!

Written by Jack.

