

Year 6

When you see an orange dot in your margin, it is telling you that you have a grammar, punctuation or spelling error to correct on that line.

When you see an orange box around a part of your writing, it means that you need to redraft the writing in the box to make it even better.

Remember that all of your edits and redrafts need to be written in purple pen.